GIRLS, want to get paid for your ideas?
And meet some famous people in S.T.E.A.M.?

If you are 12-17 years of age and want to be part of a winning team of girls who develop an idea for a business and pitch it to a panel of judges who will pay you for it, please apply to be part of our event at NASA on November 9-10 in Mountain View, California.

You will have a mentor who will work with each team to help with your project idea and also prepare you to make your presentation to the judges. It is a fun and interactive experience to meet other girls who work with you to develop an idea which could become a viable business one day.

It will be amazing for you to meet some of our speakers who are experts in the fields of science, technology, gaming, digital media who will show you how fun it is and rewarding to be part of STEAM.

In order to qualify to be part of a team, you need to have accomplished the following:

- 3.0 GPA
- Volunteered in your school and community for projects
- Activity in sports, arts, music
- Answer three open-ended questions about you and some of your experiences

To apply to be able to join us at NASA in Mountain View, California, go to the website: www.girlsteamstitute.org/programs/challenge and complete your application before September 20, 2019 and send to info@girlsteamstitute.org.
If you want to see what other girls your age have said about their experiences attending our Challenges in the past, please go to www.girlsteaminstutute.org/impact. You will be so glad you decided to join us.

Of course, we ask your parent/guardian to come too and he/she will be part of special Parent Workshops while you are busy working with your team. They will have fun meeting other parents and hearing subject matter experts talk about the future of STEAM as careers for you. In addition, you can ask one of your computer science teachers to come and enjoy the fun too. The program is all free to attend, however, you will need to pay for your travel and hotel while you are in Mountain View, California. For questions about the program, please send an email to info@girlsteaminstutute.org

Meet some of our speakers you will be able to hear from who will give you exciting ideas for your future:
